DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 4 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The terminology, "the comparison" lacks antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Duffy et al. '610 in view of Hafner '076.

Duffy et al. disclose limitations of the claims for monitoring supplier activity in a supply chain management framework comprising: a supply chain management computer receiving data from at least one buyer in a supply chain utilizing a network; generating/sending electronic order forms based on data related to sales (see for example paragraph 0042 and 0116-0118) for ordering goods from a plurality of suppliers (see for example 0086-0088); tracking information (see for example 0023, 0030, 0042); comparing tracked information with contract terms (see for example 0106); monitoring and determining supplier reliance information (see for example 0106-0107).

Duffy et al. lack the teaching of receiving retail store data including amounts of sale of goods and the computer generating electronic orders based on the data.

Hafner et al. teach a similar supply chain management framework whereby retail store data including amounts of sale of goods (see for example Col. 3, line 65 through Col. 4, line 16) is received by at least one supplier (see for example Col. 2, line 45); and the supply chain management computer generating electronic orders based on the data (see for example Col. 2).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Duffy et al. to receive retail store data including amounts of sale of goods and further to have the computer generate electronic orders based on the data, in view of Hafner et al., in order for suppliers to be able to manage their retailer's inventory with a minimal amount of human intervention (See Hafner et al. Col. 2, lines 17-25).

The Examiner takes Official Notice that it was well known in the art that a buyer of goods could include a buyer in a "franchise" supply chain.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 7/16/2004 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
